

Monday 13th November is 'Odd Socks Day' at Inkpen School

On Monday 13th November we are inviting children and adults (including parents) to wear odd socks to school to launch the beginning of Anti-Bullying Week 2017.

The theme this year is 'All Different, All Equal' which celebrates that we are all unique. So, dig out your favourite, colourful socks. Remember to find two different ones. The more colourful the better!

Classes will be talking during circle times and assemblies throughout the week about how they are 'All Different, All Equal' and that is what makes them unique.

'Odd Socks Day is an opportunity to have fun, be yourself and spread awareness of the core values Anti-Bullying Week promotes.' (quoted from Anti-Bullying Alliance resources for Odd Socks Day)

Thank you for your support and we can't wait to see what colour socks you will be wearing on Monday!

Monday 13th November is 'Odd Socks Day' at Inkpen School

On Monday 13th November we are inviting children and adults (including parents) to wear odd socks to school to launch the beginning of Anti-Bullying Week 2017.

The theme this year is 'All Different, All Equal' which celebrates that we are all unique. So, dig out your favourite, colourful socks. Remember to find two different ones. The more colourful the better!

Classes will be talking during circle times and assemblies throughout the week about how they are 'All Different, All Equal' and that is what makes them unique.

'Odd Socks Day is an opportunity to have fun, be yourself and spread awareness of the core values Anti-Bullying Week promotes.' (quoted from Anti-Bullying Alliance resources for Odd Socks Day)

Thank you for your support and we can't wait to see what colour socks you will be wearing on Monday!